

GRE Vocabulary

The screenplay is so •••••••• - the leading lady has a quirky, artsy job in the city and has a minor problem early in the movie from which the male lead rescues her, and they get together but then break up due to a misunderstanding, and then they end up together anyway, all while the female lead's "sassy" friend gives advice. Ugh. I'll bet they're auditioning Jennifer Aniston right now.

A famed ••••••••, the sitcom star was constantly in the news for cavorting with women of dubious occupations and overdosing on drugs often enough to regularly hold up production of his popular television show.

The •••••••• professor spoke at a million miles an hour and still regularly talked pasted the scheduled end time of the class.

Exercise 4

(c) Adeet Phanse

Word Bank: libertine, loquacious, hackneyed